*The IRS requires most preparers to e-file their clients' returns. You can opt out, but it requires you to file form 8948 with your return and I need to have a letter on file, signed by you.

Additional charges apply if information must be compiled by me. For example, if you send receipts to add up for you, it will cost you extra.

I offer education and military discounts as well as a returning client discount (10% each).
